

UNCW BIKING TOUR – SELF GUIDED

This 6.5 mile (one hour) tour takes you along the Gary Shell Cross City Trail. The tour starts at UNCW and shows the connectivity of the University to shopping, residential areas, parks, major employers and scenery in town.

- The tour starts at the UNCW William Madison Randall Library and heads south across campus towards Riegel Road
- Follow Riegel Road to the east around the athletic fields and meet up with the Gary Shell Cross-City Trail
- Follow the Cross-City Trail east to Rose Avenue, where it makes a 90-degree turn to the north.

- Continue on the Cross-City Trail north along Rose Avenue and through a wooded area adjacent to campus.
- The trail eventually makes a sharp turn to the right and joins Mallard Street, which it follows north to Rill St.
- Turn right on Rill Street and look for a trailhead on your left, just before Rill Street turn right onto Teal Street. Turn left instead and back onto the Cross-City Trail
- Follow the Cross-City Trail across the bridge, around the lake, and north to Eastwood Road.
- OPTIONAL TURNAROUND – at this point, you can turn around and back-track, or continue to close the loop
- If continuing, turn left on the Cross-City Trail and follow the trail west along Eastwood Road.
- Turn left on Dungannon Blvd. and into the Autumn Hall neighborhood. Follow the road south through the roundabout.
- Turn right onto Orton Point Road, and then left onto Cardinal Drive. Cardinal Drive dead-ends into Clear Run Drive, turn right, and then left onto College Acres Drive.
- Turn left onto Racine Drive, and then immediately left again onto Reynolds Drive.
- Follow Reynolds Drive across Cahill Drive and onto campus.
- Turn right onto Chancellor's Walk and continue back to the starting point.
